I, the undersigned, hereby declare (as the corresponding author on behalf of all the co-authors) that I have:

-not committed plagiarism of any kind including data fabrication, data falsification, duplication, etc.
-written and submitted an entirely original work.
-not used fraudulent or inaccurate statements in reporting and discussing the findings.
- cited the works of the other authors appropriately and precisely in the study.
- mentioned any sources of funds and financial support.
- declared any conflict of interest concerning my work.
- not simultaneously submitted the same work (submitted to TEL) to be considered for publication elsewhere before a final decision is made on the manuscript on the side of TEL Journal.
- mentioned the names of all authors who have made a real and significant contribution to the work reported in the study.
- observed the participants' rights including confidentiality and anonymity.

In case, any of the above-mentioned ethical statements is violated on the part of authors, the TEL Journal reserves the right to reject and even retract the paper after publication and share the information on research misconduct with other journals, publishers and editors-in-chief.

The full name and the signature of the corresponding author:

Date: