Conflict of Interest Disclosure Form

The corresponding author (on behalf of all co-authors listed below) will complete, sign, scan the completed form and submit it to TEL Journal.

In order to guarantee objectivity, independence, and scientific rigor in Teaching English Language (TEL) Journal, all authors contributing to the journal are required to disclose to the readers any real or potential sources of conflict of interest which might have a direct impact upon the subject matter of the paper and the findings. This is, by no means, meant to prevent authors with a conflict of interest from publication. The intent is, however, to identify and disclose openly any actual or potential conflict of interest so that the readers can see and decide whether the authors' outside interest might have affected the findings which would consequently enable them to form their own judgements about the paper.

I, the undersigned (i.e., the corresponding author on behalf of all co-authors), hereby certify that there is no actual or potential conflict of interest in association with this paper. In the space provided below, please write "None" if no conflict of interest exists. In case any conflict of interest exists, please define here.
